

REDUCTION FOR THE MEASURE

Local Option Bill Passed by Idaho Senate Turns Up in the House.

(Special to The Herald.)
Boise, Ida., Feb. 11.—The senate local option bill, as submitted to the house for final disposition, will not be passed. Within two days the forces in the lower branch have been crystallized, and a preponderance of votes will stand united against an unreserved acceptance of the measure. An attempt will be made, it is stated, to prevent the proposed enactment from being taken into a committee of the whole upon the part of what have been termed the radical members. The purpose is to preclude, if possible, any amendments which will cause any harranging delay and which may mean ultimate disaster to the anti-saloon contingent should the higher branch refuse to adopt them. To meet such an effort the conservatives are lining up to compel the document being taken into a committee of the whole, where it may be remodeled to conform to their designs. The same men who endeavored to recommit the house liquor bill to the joint committee from which it emanated are involved in the new maneuver. They were defeated upon the previous occasion by a close result of 24 to 23. But the complexion of the assembly is changed for the impending battle, and the array presented by the caucus organization will include Democratic allies who have been counted on the other side. The statement is made upon the authority of a leader of the minority:
"At the last moment the Democrats may change their tactics and again strive to place the Republicans on record in regard to a party pledge, but this is not considered probable."
Weight is given the report that the radicals have organized to keep the bill from a committee of the whole just as the conservatives have organized to send it there, by the fact that Schutt, who will be absent during the fight and who is an announced opponent of local option, has been paired with Miller who is considered to be extreme in the other direction. Both are Republicans.
Today the senate measure was transmitted to the house, and McCracken moved that it be given a first reading. His act was counter-d by a peremptory adjournment, and was afterwards declared to be the preliminary skirmish on the part of the radicals in their endeavor to rush the proposed enactment through the assembly.

Local Produce Market

For the first time in a month the flour market has gone over the week without an advance in price. But this does not indicate that there will be no more changes, for it is said an additional advance may be expected at any time. The market this week, however, seems to be in a much better condition and somewhat steadier than for many weeks past. The prevailing prices are rather stiff, in fact much in advance over the prices which are usual at this time of the season.
The produce market this week is in excellent condition. Prices during the week have remained the same and no changes of any consequence have been reported. Oranges, apples and other fruits are plentiful and in strong demand, with no change in price. Sweet potatoes, about the finest of the season, from California and Kansas, are in the market in large quantities and selling at 5 cents a pound.
Poultry and fish markets are brisk and both display an excellent variety to select from. The prices of these staples last week, but no new additions have arrived for the fish market. Poultry is somewhat scarce, but no advance in price has been made on this account. Eggs remain at top notch prices as well as butter. A drop in the price of these two staples is expected daily.
Trade in the wholesale houses is brisk and business improving daily. The wholesale merchants are now at peace among themselves and a steadier market is the result.

DISTRICT COURT NOTES

Judge C. W. Morse yesterday gave judgment in the case of Michael Morris against George Morrow and others on a promissory note for $2,500 dated Aug. 1, 1901, in favor of the plaintiff. He held that the taxes delinquent constituted a first lien on the property part of lot 1, block 22, plat B, on which a mortgage had been given to secure the note and ordered that it be sold to satisfy the judgment after the amount of the taxes was paid. The property was sold at tax sale Dec. 31, 1904, to Carrie Cain and P. T. Elwell.

Judge Morse yesterday delivered judgment in the suit of the Rio Grande Western Railway company against Thomas B. Stringham to quiet its title to a strip 100 feet wide on each side of its tracks on the Bingham canyon line through the Curtis placer mining claim. U. S. lot 38, lower placer district. The title was held by Stringham. The title was held by Stringham. The title was held by Stringham.

Judge C. W. Morse yesterday granted a motion to reopen the action brought in November, 1903, by August Weber against Amanda Stearns to quiet title to twenty-three lots between First and Second West and Tenth and Eleventh South. In this suit a decree was finally granted to the intervenor, Peter Borg, resting the title in him. It is now desired to reopen the case for further testimony.

Conrad Nelson yesterday brought suit against the Boston Consolidated Mining company for $1,500 damages for personal injuries received Nov. 2, 1908, while he was placing lights on a motor car on the property of the company. He charged that the motor car carelessly ran the end of the motor on which he was riding into some timbers. His right leg was broken and he received other injuries, which he says will be permanent.

For the restitution of property in Bingham canyon and for damages of $100 for being wrongfully deprived of possession of such property, Mrs. Josephine M. Miller has filed a suit in the district court against George E. Chandler.

Judge C. W. Morse yesterday entered judgment in favor of the Salt Lake Security & Trust company against Edward L. Raybould and Mark J. Raybould for $125.70 attorney's fees of $100 and $25.40 and ordered for $2,500 dated Aug. 1, 1901, in favor of the plaintiff. He held that the taxes delinquent constituted a first lien on the property part of lot 1, block 22, plat B, on which a mortgage had been given to secure the note and ordered that it be sold to satisfy the judgment after the amount of the taxes was paid. The property was sold at tax sale Dec. 31, 1904, to Carrie Cain and P. T. Elwell.

MURRAY NEWS NOTES.

The prohibition movement in Murray seems to have lost in strength. When the subject was first broached petitions favoring prohibition were circulated and were signed by many, but reports are that the wave is not as strong as at first. Murray has a prominent saloon doing business, and a great deal of its revenue is derived from this source. Many prominent citizens there have voiced their opinion that if prohibition was adopted it would retard the progress that Murray is making at the present time. In south Cottonwood, Mill Creek Union and Granite, where saloons are few and far between, the agitation is much stronger.

Fish Eggs Arrive.

A shipment of 5,000,000 fish eggs has been received this week by the Mountain Trout company of Murray. It is one of the largest ever received by any individual hatchery in the state. Besides this, large quantities of fry are being prepared for shipment to various parts of the state.

Yesterday afternoon at the First ward chapel a very appropriate program was rendered in honor of the birthday of Abraham Lincoln. The program consisted of several musical numbers, given by the students of the Arlington school. There were three veterans of the G. A. R. in attendance. City Attorney Moffat made the opening address, and his talk was along the line of "Abraham Lincoln, the Man." Mayor Charles Brown also delivered an address.

ity & Trust company against Edward L. Raybould and Mark J. Raybould for $125.70 attorney's fees of $100 and $25.40 and ordered for $2,500 dated Aug. 1, 1901, in favor of the plaintiff. He held that the taxes delinquent constituted a first lien on the property part of lot 1, block 22, plat B, on which a mortgage had been given to secure the note and ordered that it be sold to satisfy the judgment after the amount of the taxes was paid. The property was sold at tax sale Dec. 31, 1904, to Carrie Cain and P. T. Elwell.

Thomas T. Yowell not only did not provide the necessities of life for his wife, Louise Larsen Yowell, but according to her story in her suit for divorce filed yesterday, he left her with two of his children by a former marriage to care for. He earns, she says, $150 a month, but has never given her more than $20 of it, and she has been obliged to work for a living. She asks for alimony, suit money, attorney's fees and the restoration of her maiden name of Larsen.

Maud Ellis is bringing suit for divorce from William Ellis, makes charges of non-support and asks that she and given the custody of their only child, Hamilton, aged 11 years. They were married at Jamestown, N. Y., Dec. 22, 1885.

POULTRY ASSOCIATION ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The annual meeting of the Utah State Poultry association, held last evening at the Commercial club, was a very enthusiastic gathering. About fifty members were present. The secretary and treasurer made favorable reports concerning the 1908 chicken show and the financial condition of the treasury. Secretary C. J. Sander was re-elected secretary for another year, and George Coulam was re-elected second vice president. Other officers for 1909 were newly elected as follows: President, S. S. Sander; first vice president, James M. Adams; county vice presidents, A. H. Weston of Weber, R. E. Easton of Box Elder, Frank Hyde of Davis and G. M. Turpin of Cache; treasurer, T. H. Cartwright; executive committee, Hugh Smith, C. G. Plummer, James M. Adams, J. L. Hornum, Dr. J. C. Plummer was voted a life membership in the association in appreciation of his tireless efforts during the last four years in helping to build up the organization.

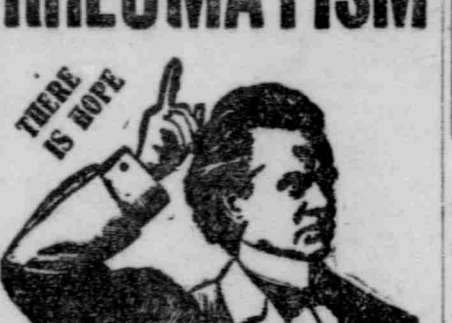

Quick climatic changes try strong constitutions and cause, among other evils, nasal catarrh, a troublesome and offensive disease, sneezing, snuffing, and difficult breathing, and the foul discharge into the throat—all are ended by Ely's Cream Balm. E. R. PLACE DISCUSSES IDAHO RAILWAY PROJECT

E. R. Place of Caldwell, Ida., who is in charge of the affairs at the place of the Golden Gate railway project, which has been heard of considerably of late and for the last eighteen months, is registered at the Cullen hotel. Mr. Place stated yesterday that there was little activity at present regarding the project. The route proposed is from Caldwell to San Francisco and some work on the right of way is being done. Caldwell to the Snake river, about sixteen miles, and surveys were completed to Winnemucca, 20 miles. "We are just plugging along," said Mr. Place, "not doing much of anything now. There are a lot of things that Idaho needs in a railroad way and she is just bugging to learn how she will have to go to it to get them. It is bound to be slow with you. You see, conditions now are such that nobody can build any railroads that amount to anything without getting the consent of E. H. Harriman unless that person can command a whole lot more capital than the average promoter." Mr. Place will be here several days on business.

RHEUMATISM

I want every chronic rheumatic to throw away all medicines, all liniments, all plasters, and give MUNYON'S RHEUMATISM REMEDY a trial.
